Investment-readiness workshops

Trade and Investment (TIQ) is partnering with Deloitte Australia to deliver a series of workshops around Queensland to help small and medium-sized businesses attract new investment.

Learn about what investors are looking for and how to develop a strong business case and information memorandum.

Topics include:

- economic update for Queensland considering impacts of COVID-19 on businesses
- recap of what investment options are available, and what investors are looking for
- what it means to be 'investment ready'
- the purpose of an information memorandum
- tips for preparing an information memorandum
- working through the key sections of an information memorandum.
